

To education in Scotland perhaps

Scotland is part of United Kingdom of Great Britain, at least not yet. A referendum to discuss the establishment of an independent state is scheduled for 2014. But especially in the education system of Scotland there are now.

The Scots themselves believe that their system is better than English, and much. Noticeable differences already in elementary school. Children learn in elementary school from 5 to 12 years. Having passed the tests, go to secondary school. Almost all secondary schools of General education, a full course lasts 6 years. Services of the tutor of English language is very popular. Good knowledge of the language is a prerequisite for admission to the University.

Most of the schools belongs to the Board of education and funded by him. Only 19 schools funded by the Department of education. The question of the authority of school Board or Department be put to a vote of the parents.

In General the education system as follows: up to 5 years pre-school education; 5-12 years – primary education; 12-16 years – secondary school; 16-18 years – exam preparation of Hayers in the secondary school.

Abroad compulsory secondary education is the exam, standard Grade. After this exam sixteen-year-old student has the right to choose its future path. And it will either vocational training or a two-year course of preparation for examinations for admission to the University. In fact, in another case, the services of the tutor of English, you will certainly need. The language exam is mandatory.

In the fifth year of secondary education students sit the exams for 4, 5 or 6 subjects. Some schools offer exams A-level. The last and sixth year is completely devoted to preparations for the delivery of Highers or Advanced Highers. According to the results, the diploma, which is recognized throughout the UK and gives the right to enroll in all the universities of the Kingdom.

For a sixteen year old, as for older people, there is a unified system of further education and vocational training. A network of 43 colleges, something like our colleges, offers academic and professional training most subjects.

Forms of training varied. Day, evening, manufacturing, correspondence, external studies, individual program. Tutors in many forms of training is simply necessary. Successfully mastered the College course, it is possible to transfer to a University on the second and even the third year.

The Scottish government Qualifications develops, approves and monitors the qualification, recognized worldwide.

In Scotland there is no system of entrance examinations. For admission it is sufficient to submit a certificate of completion of secondary school and a certificate of a sufficient level of English proficiency. It is clear that to achieve such a level Tutors required.

Statistically, Scotland is one of the affordable essay writing services most educated countries in the European Union. Every second citizen has a higher education. 15 thousand foreign students come to Scotland to study in the universities of this country.

And draws them here, not exotics. A high level of teaching and research, a qualification that's recognised around the world – here, the main advantages of education Scotland.

Russian students are still just beginning to explore this country. 13 universities in Scotland welcome the influx of talented and motivated young people from Russia.

Applicants to better understand the environment in which they are going to learn, he mastered English at an appropriate level, training is required. Preparatory programme for 9 months, better place in the University where you plan to study. Go ahead, everything is in your hands.